

I am appalled to hear that anyone is considering weakening Wisconsin's Do Not Call list. If an exception is made for bankers then we are on our way down the slippery slope where every group will be asking for their exception and the Don Not Call list will become a joke. Do not allow this. The Do Not Call list is supposed to be about consumer choice, not about businesses creating new opportunities to, once again, intrude into our homes.